ABOUT US:

Established in 1999, Long Island Wine Country.com is the premier online magazine and tour operator, dedicated to the wines, foods and locale of Long Island's bucolic east end wine region. As area experts, our editors review the latest wines, interview winemakers and keep up on new trends and attractions. All tours are hosted by an editor who will be your personal escort, providing "inside information" and wine education. And because we have a close working relationship with the area wineries and restaurants, our tour groups receive special benefits not available to the public. We are New York's premier public and custom wine country tour experts.
